

MISSIONS ABCS

At Living Stones,
we want to share
simply, for all ages, what missions looks
like to us:
Missions ABCs

MISSIONS ABCS

Alexandra lives in an abandoned house because her mom is a prostitute and her dad is an alcoholic

MISSIONS ABCS

Josefa didn't know when her birthday was because her mother couldn't read

MISSIONS ABCS

Caid is a missionary: someone who goes somewhere different to share Jesus

C

for Caid

Daniel has special needs, but doesn't have any special help

MISSIONS ABCS

Eduardo
learned to write his name at
Living Stones
when he turned 11 years old

MISSIONS ABCS

Furlough is when missionaries go back to their first home for awhile

MISSIONS ABCS

Gustavo
lives in a dirt
house with a dirt floor and
no bathroom

MISSIONS ABCS

Henrique lives at the trash dump, where his parents sort trash to recycle

Ivanilson's dad sometimes hits his mom, and no one says it is wrong

MISSIONS ABCS

Jesus makes all the difference.
He is the Answer.

MISSIONS ABCS

Kaylane wants a safe place to play, away
from the gangs
who run her
city

MISSIONS ABCS

Living Stones
loves, educates,
nourishes, and
directs kids to Jesus in the poorest
communities

MISSIONS ABCS

Molly began "Bibles from Pennies" when she was 8 years old, so other kids could have a Bible

MISSIONS ABCS

N
For Not knowing

Not knowing
what comes
next,
missionaries
have to follow God

One dollar
can provide a full, hot meal for a child who might not get one

Pastor
Flavio grew
up to help
kids like he used to be

MISSIONS ABCS

"Que isso?"
means
"What is it?"
in Portuguese

MISSIONS ABCS

Rachel went on a short term
mission trip
and later came back to be a missionary

MISSIONS ABCS

Sofia is a third culture kid (TCK) because she lives in Brazil and her parents are missionaries

MISSIONS ABCS

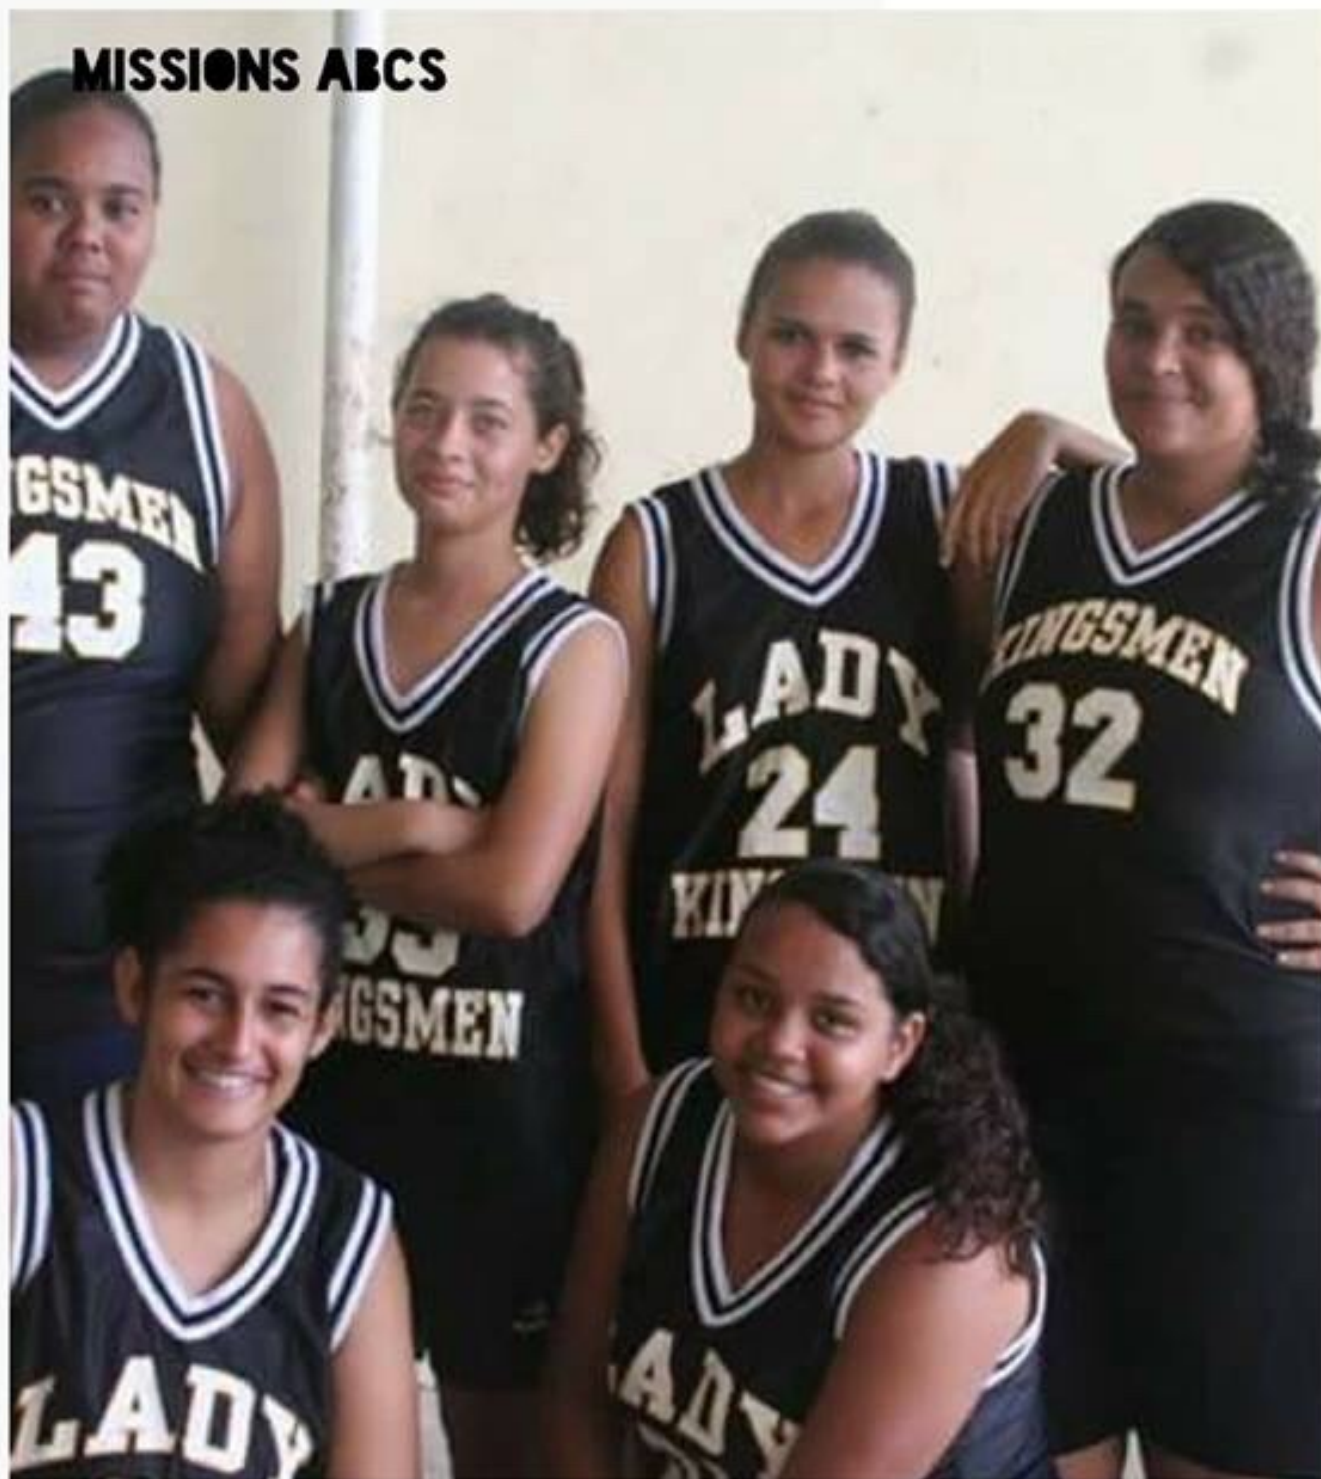

Tyago translates and teaches at the International school of Carpina

Understand other cultures and things that are different from us

MISSIONS ABCS

How you can Pray for Living Stones

Pray for the children in the program. Each one has a story and great needs. Find out more on our blog: buildinglivingstones.org/blog

Pray for the local leaders. These are passionate Christians who have given their lives to serve these kids, and have their own needs as well.

Pray for our partnerships, that they would truly be reciprocal and bring glory to God. Donors need to receive, and the communities have so much to give!

Note:

To keep up with current prayer needs, sign up for our e-newsletter, at the bottom of our website: BuildingLivingStones.org

THANK YOU
OBRIGADO
